Healthcare has become one of India's largest sectors, both in terms of revenue and employment. Healthcare comprises hospitals, medical devices, clinical trials, outsourcing, telemedicine, medical tourism, health insurance and medical equipment. The Government of India aims to increase healthcare spending to 3% of the GDP by 2022. The Indian Government is also planning to introduce a credit incentive programme worth Rs. 500 billion (US$ 6.8 billion) to boost the country's healthcare infrastructure. The programme will allow firms to leverage the fund to expand hospital capacity or medical supplies with the government acting as a guarantor and strengthen COVID-19-related health infrastructure in smaller towns.

In Budget 2021, India's public expenditure on healthcare stood at 1.2% as a percentage of the GDP. Between April 2000 and December 2020, FDI inflows for drugs and pharmaceuticals sector stood at US$ 17.99 billion, according to the data released by Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT).
